BENEFITS TO OREGON

OFVO commissioned an updated Economic Development report for 2021 through PSU's NERC. This can be found on the "About Us" page of our website (OregonFilm.org)

The film and video industry benefits Oregon in a wide variety of ways:

- Economic Impact.

$280M Tracked Qualified Spending on Film and Media Production in Oregon for the 2017-2019 Biennium impacting more than 8,000 jobs. The 2019-2021 Biennium is currently tracking in a similar fashion.

The above numbers do not include many commercial productions which do not come through the incentive system and still shoot here in the state. These short productions vary in size from a few thousand dollars to several hundred thousand.

- Industry revenue is spread throughout various sectors of the economy. The average film or television production does significant business with hundreds of local vendors per production including hotels, rental cars, lumber yards, hardware stores, office supplies, clothing stores, furniture and antique stores, grip and lighting equipment, and many more.
- Economic impact is felt throughout the state. Although Portland continues to be the home of the majority of the total output, the impact is felt statewide with features like THE RENTAL (Bandon), PHOENIX, OREGON (Klamath Falls), FIRST COW (Elkton), SHRILL (Maupin), TRINKETS (Hug Point), and TOP CHEF (Hood River) which employ cast & crew and engage vendors on a local level for every day of the shooting schedule.
- The film and television industry provides living wage jobs with benefits. On the television series that are in production in Oregon, the average hourly wage is over $25/hour. A full time worker can earn health benefits for up to two years on one television production.
- Post-COVID Recovery - The film, television, interactive and commercial production industry was quick to return in July and August of 2020 providing safe jobs for hundreds. This also had a knock-on effects in other industries such as hotels, restaurants, caterers and equipment rentals. By way of example, the television series "Top Chef" paid for 7,000 room nights in local hotels during its shoot in September and October.
- Promotional value – Through various strategic partnerships, OFVO has rolled out almost 30 new stops on the Oregon Film Trail. New signs have been placed in places like Joseph, Klamath Falls, Burns, Athena, Cottage Grove marking iconic filming locations and driving film tourism to local communities.

OREGON FILM & VIDEO OFFICE

During the 2019-2021 biennium, the Oregon Film & Video Office has successfully retained, recruited and assisted numerous film and television projects here in Oregon. The following are a few examples of successful projects produced throughout Oregon in the last two years.

FIRST COW (FEATURE FILM)

This locally produced independent feature is based on a novel by Portland author Jonathan Raymond and shot in Clackamas County, Sauvie Island and Elkton. The film is being tracked for Oscar contention in 2021.

THE RENTAL (FEATURE FILM)

This thriller directed by David Franco and starring Allison Brie shot in Bandon and was released in the Spring of 2020 achieving #1 Box Office status in the US.

MISSING LINK (FEATURE FILM)

This critically acclaimed stop-motion animated feature is the fifth from Hillsboro-based Laika.

The Lorne Michaels (Saturday Night Live) produced series for Hulu is based on the book by Seattle writer Lindy West, stars Aidy Bryant and is Executive Produced by Elizabeth Banks. The second season aired in early 2020 while the third series completed shooting in Clackamas County and Portland in the fall of 2020.

INTERACTIVE GAME DEVELOPMENT

Interactive game companies continue to grow in clusters in places like Eugene, Oregon City, Bend and Newberg. Many of these in-state headquartered companies have utilized our programs to develop and complete numerous original games leading to the growth of a permanent workforce.

TRINKETS (SEASON 2)

The Emmy Award winning second season of the Netflix series completed its second season in Oregon shooting its final episode on the Oregon Coast.

WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

Partnering with the Oregon Media Production Association, the International Alliance of Stage and Theatre Employees, Outside the Frame and the Portland Film Office, OFVO has placed more than 15 paid candidates onto the various sets and studios in Oregon. These placements focused on members of historically marginalized communities who may not have had the opportunity at these entry level jobs. More than 10 of these placements have continued to work in the industry through the contacts that they made on their initial placement.

OREGON FILM FESTIVALS

Even as the COVID pandemic took many into a “virtual” space, OFVO also directly supported several of the state’s premiere film festivals in places like Bend, Ashland, La Grande, and Klamath in an effort to not only highlight local talent working within the state, but bringing producers, filmmakers and projects into the state for the first time.

OREGON FILM TRAIL

Working with several strategic partners like the Oregon Made Creative Foundation, Travel Oregon, Oregon State Parks, the Oregon Coast Visitor’s Association, the Willamette Valley Visitor’s Association and the cities and towns of Athena, Cottage Grove, Joseph and Astoria (amongst others), Oregon Film was instrumental in launching the Oregon Film Trail. The Film Trail consists of physical signs placed in close approximation to iconic shooting locations. It supports and highlights the cultural significance to Oregon’s history as well as encourages local tourism into smaller communities.

ANIMATION

Since the 1970’s, Oregon has cultivated a hub for quality animation. And now it is a recognized leader in the animation community worldwide. Leading the way is Laika who released its critically acclaimed MISSING LINK during the Biennium while other local companies like House Special, Bent Image Labs and Hinge Digital continue to create quality, award winning animated content for a rapidly growing audience. Animation is now an internationally recognized export commodity for Oregon, and even established companies are finding a home here - Netflix currently has three animation projects in production in Oregon including Guillermo del Toro’s PINOCCHIO produced by ShadowMachine and the Jordan Peele produced WENDELL & WILD.

GRANTS AND OPPORTUNITIES

Creating opportunities in the media industry has been a driving force in OVFO’s efforts and, to this end, we have worked closely with the non-profit Oregon Made Creative Foundation to identify partnerships and funding sources for a series of grants given out to local creators. Most recently OFVO and OMCFF have partnered with Travel Oregon and RACC to award three “Tell Your Story” Grants ($30,000) and the fourth annual “Outdoor Adventure Film Grant” ($20,000) to a group of filmmakers from Ashland.

PARTNERSHIPS

OFVO has relied on many strategic partnerships to create opportunity and recognition for the creative industry as a whole. These partnerships include both financing and resources being shared. Organizations like the Oregon Media Production Association, Travel Oregon, Travel Portland, Oregon State Parks, RACC, Oregon Coast Visitor’s Association, Willamette Valley Visitor’s Association, the cities of Brownsville, Eugene, Joseph, Cottage Grove, Athena and the City of Portland and the Portland Film Office (just to name but a few) have all partnered with OFVO in some form to bring money and opportunity to our community and industry.
